

EILD ANNOUNCES TWO NEW PROJECTS

The European Institute for Local Development is pleased to announce that it has launched activities for two new projects under the Erasmus + program. Speaking of HEPA4ALL and Local Leadership for European Rural and Small Cities.

Local Leadership for European Rural and Small Cities is implemented from 1/10/2020, lasting until 30/09/2022.

The project is designed to highlight the importance of local government and to strengthen it in the difficult task of dealing with the consequences of the current pandemic. The aim is to mitigate the impact on the economy and social cohesion, with a view to the future and the potential social unrest that will ensue.

HEPA4ALL is an acronym for the project Encouraging Participation in Sports and Health Enhancing Physical Activities with an Inclusive Approach, which is implemented from 01/01/2021, lasting until 31/12/2023.

The project is designed to involve, exclusively, people with disabilities in long-term measures to support their social inclusion, by encouraging their participation in physical activities.
